THE GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29.

"NO MORTGAGE ON IT."

The Milwaukee Sentinel of Wednesday contains the following editorial comment on the Brooklyn Eagle's recent article on Mr. Blaine and the presidency:

Some time ago the Brooklyn Eagle, an ardent democratic and free trade organ, and a warm supporter of the present administration, published an elaborate editorial article in which it attempted to show that the republican party is bound by the logic of the situation and by a proper regard for consistency to renominate Mr. Blaine in 1888. The article further sought to promote Mr. Blaine's renomination by representing that any other course would be a submission to the threats of the mugwumps, and would be a confession of cowardice.

The Janesville Gazette is pleased with this view of the subject that it copies parts of the article, and approves the general scope of its argument. It proposes that the republicans shall again nominate Mr. Blaine, and 'thus defend his honor and confirm their own courage." We confess to some doubts as to the wisdom of this scheme. If Mr. Blaine is renominated it should be done on the ground that he is the fittest and most available candidate, and not to defend his honor or show the courage of the republicans. There is no logical necessity for his nomination. The party is under no obligations to make him its candidate for a second time.

The Sentinel hardly understands the Gazette on the question of Mr. Blaine's candidacy. This paper was not so well pleased with the Brooklyn Eagle's article that it could not refrain from copying it. It simply dealt with the question as a fact and not because it is especially in love with Mr. Blaine. The Sentinel has been through a great many campaigns, and its editor has been in the front of every political battle for the past thirty years, and no one in the state understands the political sentiment of the country more than he. He can see as well as any other man can see, that nothing short of Mr. Blaine's positive declination will prevent his renomination. And this condition of things exists for the plain reasons stated by the Brooklyn Eagle and reproduced in the Gazette. It is not a wise sentiment, but it is pretty general, however among many republicans, that they would rather be beaten with Blaine than win with any other man. Of course this is bullheaded nonsense, but it exists nevertheless, and as the Gazette has before remarked, the sentiment will be so strong in the convention for the man from Maine that the chances are altogether in his favor. However much any one may be opposed to Blaine he will still be forced to confess that no other candidate, no matter who he may be, will have anything like a fighting chance in the convention. So whatever may be said in the Gazette in regard to Mr. Blaine and the presidential situation, it will simply reflect the sentiment among a majority of republicans in all parts of the country.

The Gazette can well sympathize with the Milwaukee Sentinel in its advocacy of Mr. Sherman for the presidency. He is not only the foremost statesman in this country, but he is a man of splendid integrity, of a spotless public and private record, a scholar of whom any party or any country may be proud, and a financier of almost matchless ability. No one can remember his services while he was secretary of the treasury, especially about 1877, when the democratic party and all the greenbackers were howling for the repeal of the resumption act. It was a question with a good many public men whether this country could resume without striking a severe blow at all sorts of business. But John Sherman never faltered and never once doubted the ability of the country to resume specie payments, and so he kept on, and on the first day of January, 1878, the premium on gold was forever wiped out, and resumption in the United States took place on that day as quietly as falls the sunbeam.

This country owes a debt of gratitude to John Sherman for his distinguished public services, and it is no wonder Ohio wants him for the presidency. He would make a grand president—able, upright, scholarly and in all things just. But his time will not likely come in 1888.

THE NEW PROGRAMME.

Oshkosh Times (Dem.): The Milwaukee democrats owe the Milwaukee Sentinel an everlasting debt of gratitude for the vigor with which that paper has insisted upon a fitting and public reception of the president. The M. D.'s would hardly have got their eyes open to recognize their own stupidity had it not been for the Sentinel.

This is even so. The democrats in Milwaukee were so dazed by the thought that a democratic president was coming to their city, a thing which never took place before and will not likely take place again very soon, that they did not know how to act decently in the matter. But after they got a good punch in the side they came to their senses and now a respectable programme has been made.

The order of the day will be this: "The president will be received at the Northwestern depot. The local military companies and societies, as well as organizations from abroad that choose to take part, will form a procession and march to the court house park, where the president will review them from a temporary stand which is to be erected. This will give everybody an opportunity to see him. The line of march will then be to Schlitz' park, where the president will hold a reception, and as much handshaking will take place as time will permit."

On Friday the president will go to Madison, where a reception will be given in the rotunda of the capitol. The official programme has not been published, but will be in time to give everybody an opportunity to go to Madison and shake hands with the president.

Professor Wayland, of Yale College, recently read a paper before the Social Science association at Saratoga, on "Incorrigible Misdemeanants," which was an argument for the perpetual imprisonment of that large class of poor wretches who have become the slaves of vicious and immoral habits, and who are, as experience seems to prove, beyond reclamation. Professor Wayland finds no difficulty in demonstrating that these men and women who will drink and steal and debauch whenever they are out of prison do so much mischief to the community by their evil example, by the loss of capital they cause and by their propagation of diseased and depraved children, that the state is warranted in isolating them permanently. There is a good deal of sense as well as justice in the position taken by Professor Wayland. In every state prison there are some who are serving their fourth and fifth term and hundreds who are serving their second term. Those are naturally bad men. Punishment does them no good. If they are discharged from prison today, they will commit more crimes tomorrow. They can't be reformed because their nature can't be made anew. It is those that professor Wayland would keep isolated permanently for the benefit of society and for their own good. There are some strong points in his argument.

The Congregationalists of Wisconsin in convention at Whitewater have adopted a resolution extending the hand of fellowship to all workers and societies engaged in efforts to remove the evil of intemperance.

The resolution was honestly framed and honestly indorsed beyond a doubt. But as a matter of fact and practice the Wisconsin Congregationalists do not give the hand of fellowship to the workers and socities described, but only to such as have prohibition as a declared end.

The foregoing is from the Evening Wisconsin and hardly does the Congregationalists justice. Dr. Richards, of Madison, and the Rev. John Faville, of Appleton, made the reports, and the resolutions do not commit the ministers to the third party. And it is a matter of fact that there are a great many Congregational ministers in Wisconsin and throughout the country, and it is safe to say a majority of them, who are too wise and too just to follow the third party. The resolutions, if they have been printed rightly, could not be more timely on the question of temperance, and the Gazette cannot follow the example of the Evening Wisconsin in saying that the ministers preach one thing and practice another.

Mrs. Woodworth, the paroxysmal evangelist of Illinois, says that the world will end just four years from the first of the present month. But before that dread day arrives she says that "Colonel Ingersoll, the prince of heretics, will become the foremost soldier in the army of Jesus Christ." There is no doubt of this, because she has had a vision in which she "beheld Ingersoll before a great multitude and heard him exhorting men to fall in behind the banner of Christ, as mortal man never exhorted before." The world may come to an end in four years, but it is not likely that Mrs. Woodworth's soul-stirring vision in regard to the genial Bob will ever come to pass.

The democrats of Indiana see great fun ahead when Turpie takes his seat in the United States senate. As one of them expresses it, "Turpie is a rattlesnake in a fight and is keener and quicker than Ingalls. He and Ingalls will meet very soon and then there will be a scene in the United State senate which will be worth painting." This will make it bad for Turpie.

If the Cleveland and Hendricks club of Janesville are so enthusiastic in their efforts to get up delegations to go to Madison to meet the president, it might send up some money contributions, with which to pay expenses of the reception at Madison. The democrats find it hard picking in the capitol city.

There is the right kind of music in the republican platform of Massachusetts, the right kind of material in the ticket, and it will be elected by the right kind of a majority.

The prohibition election takes place in Tennessee to-day. Judging from the usual democratic majority in the state the amendment will stand a poor chance.

A Bad Fire.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Maxwell Bros.' large box factory and planing mill and the planing mill of J. G. Lobstein, situated in the block bounded by Twenty-first, Hinman, Throop and Loomis streets, burned to the ground last night, involving a loss of at least $150,000, on which there is an insurance of not exceeding $60,000. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

An Incendiary Fire.

MONTREAL, Can., Sept. 29.—George Barrington & Sons' trunk manufactory was partially destroyed by fire last night. Loss about $40,000; covered by insurance. It is suspected that the fire was the work of an incendiary. The trunk-makers have been on a strike for the last two months, and only returned to work a few days ago.

Chicagoan's to Honor Cleveland.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Mayor Roche has issued a proclamation requesting all business houses and manufacturing establishments to close on the 5th inst., and declaring that day a public holiday on account of the President's visit. He also suggests that buildings along the line of the march be decorated with flags.

A "Cane Rush."

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 29.—More than 500 students took part in a "cane rush" at Cornell Tuesday night. Heads were punched, clothing torn, and many students injured, one so severely that he became unconscious, and afterward delirious, with repeated convulsions. The sophomores captured the cane.

TOWNS WASHED AWAY.

The Rio Grande Overflows a Portion of Texas.

WIDESPREAD DESTRUCTION THE RESULT.

Entire Farms Under Water—Many Residents Lose Their All—Two Hundred and Fifty Houses Destroyed at Mier and Guerry, Mex.

HIGH WATER IN THE SOUTH.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Sept. 29.—It is reported that great distress prevails in the upper country from the high water of the upper Rio Grande river. An old-timer here for fifty years reports that there are entire farms under water and that families residing near the river have been washed out and lost all they had. A great number of these families have lost their entire crops reaped during the past season, and their destitute condition is pitiful, indeed. The river has flooded its banks for miles around, and looks like a huge ocean. It is still rising at Brownsville. Edinburg and La Pueblo, Tex., situated on the Rio Grande about sixty miles above Brownsville, have been washed from the face of the earth, and at Santa Maria it is said that the water is gradually making its way to destroy that place. At this writing the water is but fifteen feet from the main buildings there. Cattle have been moved back to higher grounds.

NEW LAREDO, Mex., Sept. 29.—Dispatches were received last evening giving the details of great destruction of property in Guerry and Mier, Mex., near the Rio Grande, by the overflowing of two rivers.

In Mier, which is built on the banks of the river Mier, 200 houses were destroyed, and many were completely washed away.

The town of Guerry, which is situated on the banks of the Salado river, was inundated, and about fifty houses were either completely washed away or damaged.

Both these rivers rise in the Lampasa mountains, and were swollen by a great water-spout which fell Friday and did much damage to the Mexican National railroad.

IMPORTANT CONFERENCE.

Secretary Fairchild and the Bankers of New York Discuss the Financial Situation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Secretary Fairchild held an important conference yesterday at the sub-Treasury with some of the leading bankers and representatives of the strongest financial institutions of the city. The latter unanimously approved the Secretary's course. On the subject of using funds for bond purchases other than those required for the sinking fund there was a difference of opinion, many taking the position that under the statute of March 3, 1881, the Secretary had the power to use the money over and above the amount necessary for the expenses of the Government in buying bonds. Speaking for the bankers, Mr. H. I. Wilson said, after the conference:

"The result of the conference is that the Secretary is willing to do any thing under the law and in a practical way to lighten the financial situation until Congress meets. The receipts from internal revenue for the next three months will be between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000. One of the plans suggested was to keep more of this amount in the National banks or as much as the banks would receive and deposit Government bonds against it. The sinking-fund requirements, according to Mr. Fairchild, are $16,000,000. Of that amount he has received $11,000,000 in the calls and $9,000,000 of the $14,000,000 of the circular offer of September 30. He still has the right to purchase $20,000,000 of bonds."

TO FIGHT THE LAW.

Michigan's High License Measure Goes Into Effect, and Liquor-Sellers Prepare for a Test Case.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 29.—The liquor dealers have resolved to test the constitutionality of the new License law, which went into effect yesterday. The Michigan Association of Liquor Dealers have engaged lawyers and will make a strong fight. The plan of the campaign is for all of the dealers in this city to close their places at night, one only being kept open. That one the proprietor will refuse to close, and of course the police will enter, close the place, and arrest the proprietor. An issue will thus be joined. The Sunday closing law will be rigidly enforced. The dealers have $20,000 in their treasury, and say they will spend twice that sum to overthrow the law.

Wyoming Bankrupts.

CHEYENNE, Wy. T., Sept. 29.—The first report of E. Nagle, receiver for the bankrupt, cattle firm of Swan Brothers, was filed with Chief Justice McGinnis yesterday. It places the resources of the firm and its individual members at $898,860.04, with liabilities at $808,099.74; resources over liabilities, $89,860.32. The personal property of the concern, consisting of horses, wagons and furniture, is not included in the receiver's report. It is now thought that if forced sales of resources are not made the creditors of the firm will be paid in full.

Phoebe W. Couzins Made a United States Marshal.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29.—In the United States Court yesterday Miss Phebe W. Couzins took the oath of office as United States Marshal, to succeed her deceased father. Judges Miller and Brewer were on the bench, and the former benevolently expressed the hope that during her term of office the new Marshal may not have to hang anybody. Miss Couzins is the first woman who ever held the office of Marshal.

Fate of Three Children.

MUSKEGON, Mich., Sept. 29.—The three little children, aged 1, 3 and 5 years respectively, of Frank Hook were suffocated Tuesday night. Hook and his wife had gone uptown and left his children in the house. While the little ones were asleep a lamp exploded, setting fire to the building. The house was not entirely consumed, but the children were killed by the smoke.

The Corn Crop Short.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 29.—The Cincinnati Price Current's statement of the corn crop of 1887 shows that the aggregate crop is estimated at 1,510,000,000 bushels, a shortage of 155,000,000 compared with 1886. Compared with an annual average for five years—1881 to 1885 inclusive—the crop shortage is 108,000,000 bushels.

Bad Weather for a Fair.

OLNEY, Ill., Sept. 29.—The State fair has been made a disastrous failure by the rain. The estimates put the loss to the treasury at $15,000 to $20,000. The people who paid round sums for privileges on the grounds are also losing heavily.

The New York Socialists.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—About 300 red delegates of the Progressive or Socialistic Labor party assembled in State convention here yesterday and nominated a full State ticket, with John Swinton for Secretary of State.

Cholera.

ROME, Sept. 29.—Cholera returns for the last twenty-four hours: Messina, 68 new cases, 6 deaths; Catania, 3 new cases, 2 deaths; Palermo, 1 new case, 3 deaths.

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

Conclusion of the Saratoga Convention—The Nominees and Platform.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 29.—In the New York Democratic convention yesterday the representation of New York City was equally divided between "Tammany Hall" and the "County Democracy," leaving the Irving Hall faction out in the cold. The platform, as adopted, demands revision of the tariff and a reduction of $100,000,000 in the amount of taxes annually collected. The State and National Civil-Service laws are approved; the Administrations of Governor Hill and President Cleveland approved, and "sumptuary laws interfering with the personal liberties and reasonable habits of any portion of our fellow-citizens" reprobated. Charles E. Tabor was nominated for Attorney-General; Edward Wemple for Comptroller, and T. J. Fitzgerald for Treasurer.

Accuses Huntington of Lying.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—The widow of General D. D. Colton denies C. P. Huntington's statement made before the Pacific commission regarding letters written by him to her late husband. She accuses Huntington of falsehood in saying the letters were stolen from his safe and that they were afterward offered him for sale by her agents. She dares Huntington to name the agent.

The Republican Convention.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—Chairman Jones is said to have indicated his purpose not to call the Republican National Committee together before January, which is taken as an indication that the nominating convention will not meet before next July.

MARCHED IN THE MUD.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29.—The Grand Army veterans, attired in rubber coats with trousers rolled up, paraded yesterday forenoon in a steady rain. Thousands who were at the encampment had either gone home or refused to march in the mud, but there were men enough to organize divisions representing in their make-up nearly all the departments.

The order to fall in for parade was received at the various camps and headquarters shortly after 9 o'clock, and the men tumbled out of tent and room and prepared for battle with the elements, armed with rubber coats and umbrellas, trousers rolled up, and mind set to give St. Louis the promised procession, if not in overwhelming number, at least with men enough to make a good showing of their appreciation of the city's efforts to entertain. Shortly before 11 o'clock the column was formed and Grand Marshal Grier ordered the escort of mounted police forward. Then followed the Grand Marshal with his chief of staff, General A. J. Smith, and aides; Logan Post, of St. Louis, mounted, and Springfield, Mass., battalion, special escorts to General Fairchild, the Commander-in-Chief, who followed a few yards behind, wrapped in a rubber coat, smiling and bowing to the crowds who lined the streets. All along the way, he was greeted with applause. His staff of 100 men, mounted, preceded twenty carriages, moving three abreast, in which were the war Governors and other honored guests. In the lead was one occupied by Mayor Francis and General William T. Sherman. Although closely sheltered from the rain and sight, the crowds on the sidewalks soon found where the old commander was, and cheer upon cheer marked his progress down the street, while frequent groups of men would rush from shelter to the carriage-door to grasp his hand. Then followed the divisions of the Grand Army, ten in number. The department of Missouri, commanded by Colonel Nelson Cole, were given the right of the line. They had come with several thousand, and, even with the rain and mud, had a long column of marching men. The ten divisions were composed as follows:

First—Department of Missouri; Colonel Nelson Cole, Assistant Marshal.

Second Department of Illinois; Colonel J. G. Butler, Assistant Marshal.

Third—Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, and Ohio; Governor Thomas C. Fletcher, Assistant Marshal.

Fourth—New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maine, New Jersey and Virginia; Colonel D. P. Dyer, Assistant Marshal.

Fifth—California, New Hampshire, Vermont, Potomac and Maryland; Major Leo Rassieur, Assistant Marshal.

Sixth—Indiana; Major E. F. Weigel, Assistant Marshal.

Seventh—Iowa, Nebraska, and Colorado; General John McNeil, Assistant Marshal.

Eighth—Kansas; Colonel John B. Gondolfo, Assistant Marshal.

Ninth—Michigan, Minnesota, Delaware, West Virginia, Washington Territory and Kentucky; Colonel Charles G. Stifel, Assistant Marshal.

Tenth—Arkansas, Florida, Gulf, Dakota, Oregon, New Mexico, Montana, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Georgia, Texas, Utah, Idaho, Arizona, Brigade of Naval Veterans, and Sons of Veterans; Captain Henry Zelgenheim, Assistant Marshal.

Here and there a post armed with muskets or a drum corps broke the monotony of the line. As the column passed under the beautiful stained-glass transparency of General Grant on Fourth street between Locust and St. Charles, all the men uncovered their heads and passed by in silence.

The Illinois contingent was close behind the Missourians, and as they marched along looking straight ahead, with firm and steady step, a volume of cheering ran along from block to block with the rapidity of a prairie fire. The Indiana department, which turned out in good strength, was preceded by Morton post, of Terre Haute. After the Indianans came the departments of Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, with Ohio, California and Vermont in their rear, in the order designated. All of the strangers received hearty greetings. Governor Larrabee rode at the head of the Iowa column, and a hundred sturdy Nebraskans and a hundred sturdy Coloradans "whooped it up" in great style as they marched ahead of the 300 cowboys from Colorado and Wyoming. But the crowning ovation was reserved for the visitors from the grasshopper regions, who made more noise and were in merrier mood than all the rest of the divisions combined. Every other man had a cabbage, squash, sweet potato, turnip or boar's head on the point of his cane or umbrella, while fully a score had fortified themselves with the biggest unplucked roosters to be found in the market. These they waved in the air in the exuberance of their feelings, meanwhile cheering themselves hoarse in response to the greetings of the spectators. There was a space of several yards between the enthusiastic crowd and the delegation from Michigan, which marched four abreast with solemn dignity. Volleys of cheers greeted the New York division, and there were hearty manifestations as the delegates from Minnesota, Arkansas, Kentucky, Florida and Texas marched past. The several colored contingents in line were well received. A detachment of the Sons of Veterans, mounted and on foot, brought up the rear of the parade, which was eighty-four minutes in passing a given point. Estimates of the number in line vary from fifteen to twenty thousand, the latter being nearest the mark.

There was no let up to the rain until long after the divisions had disbanded. When the head of the column reached the review-ing stand the Commander-in-Chief and his staff took up their positions upon the reviewing stand, General Fairchild standing bare-headed and repeatedly bowing in recognition of the enthusiastic greeting which was accorded him by the comrades as they passed by.

The encampment opened in due form in the entertainment hall of the Exposition building at 8 p. m. The Commander-in-Chief, General Fairchild, presided. The annual address of the Commander-in-Chief, which is very long, was then presented. A synopsis is as follows:

It announced the evidence of permanent and healthy growth of the Grand Army of the Republic and of the strong love of the order entertained by the loyal people of this country. That this may continue he earnestly cautioned every member that he keep a watchful guard over himself when he acts or speaks as a member of the Grand Army and not consciously further schemes foreign to the legitimate purpose of the organization. Article 9, forbidding the use of the organization for partisan purposes, had, so far as he knew, been strictly observed in letter and spirit.

From Adjutant-General Gray's report he learned that the total number of members borne on the rolls of the order at the National encampment was 399,492. In 1880 there were 66,031 members. In the last five quarters there have been mustered into the Grand Army 73,355. There were reported June 30, 1887, in good standing, 338,502; suspended, 63,280; by delinquent reports, 19,692; total at last returns borne upon the rolls, 375,674. The amount reported expended in charity March, 1882, to March, 1887, inclusive, is $333,934.43. This money was disbursed to 17,660 comrades and their families, and 8,900 others were assisted, giving 26,560 individuals who had received benefits during the year.

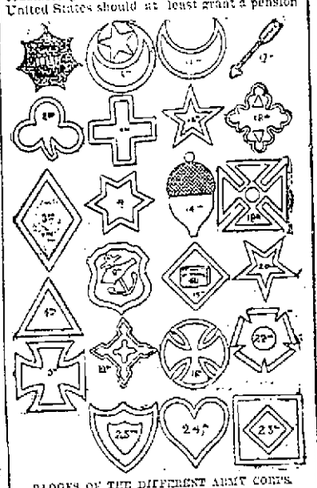

During the year death had claimed 3,400 members. He selected for special notice the late General John A. Logan, who in life had manifested his love not only in words, but by active public and private efforts; did any poor, maimed, helpless veteran need an advocate, did the Grand Army need a defender, his was the first name that came to the lips, and he was never appealed to in vain.

A letter had been received by him from Joseph W. Drexel offering in perpetuity the cottage on Mount McGregor in which General U. S. Grant spent his last days to the survivors of the gallant men who saved the country, the only conditions being that the cottage and surrounding grounds be held in trust by the Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, the president of the Mount McGregor Railway Company, and another to be named by the giver. General Fairchild recommended that it be referred to the incoming Commander-in-Chief, with authority to accept on satisfactory arrangements.

He recommended the appointment at once of a competent comrade to write the history of the organization, and suggested that the general Government include in the next decennial census an enumeration of the soldiers of the late war of the rebellion who may be living in 1890. He also recommends that the National headquarters be located at some central point and that an Assistant Adjutant-General be put in charge.

In the matter of pensions it has been an aim of the order, he said, to have Congress grant relief of the pressing needs of the comrades. The Grand Army, with the approval of the people in general, have enlisted in this cause; men of all shades of political belief have been foremost in these efforts, and never until this year has it entered the mind of any well-informed man to charge that his zeal in behalf of our needy comrades was of a political partisan character. The Grand Army of the Republic would never consent that this question of pensions should be classed among those which men commonly call partisan.

The Grand Army has been of one mind in considering it but simple justice that the United States should at least grant a pension of not less than $12 a month to all persons who served three months or more in the military or naval service of the United States during the war of the rebellion and who have been honorably discharged and who are now or may hereafter be suffering from mental or physical disability—not the result of their own vicious habits—which incapacitates them for the performance of manual labor. "What is asked now in the way of general pensions," General Fairchild said, "has been asked for years. It is not demanding too much. Many members are of the honest opinion that it is not enough, favoring a broader measure of relief which will embrace all who served a certain length of time and can show an honorable discharge, commonly called the service pension bill." General Fairchild said he was not here to argue against that as an ultimate measure. He wished to do nothing to postpone the coming of the arrival of the day of relief to the suffering.

In conclusion he said: "In fraternity, charity and loyalty we stand, proud of the fact that there is not now, nor has there ever been, any bitter feeling of hate for those of our fellow-citizens who, once in arms against us, but now being loyal, have long ago taken their old-time places in our hearts, never, we devoutly hope, to be removed therefrom. We have not now, nor have we at any time since the war closed, had any disposition to open again the bloody chasm which once unhappily divided this people. We will not only ourselves not reopen that dreadful abyss, but we will, with the loyal people North and South, protest against all attempts which others may make to do so, by holding up for especial honor and distinction any thing that pertains to or in any manner glorifies the cause of disunion.

"With the people of the South we only seek to continue the friendly rivalry long ago entered upon in the effort to make our beloved land great and prosperous and its people intelligent, happy and virtuous. We will rival them in exalting all that pertains to and honors this great Union and in condemning every thing that tends to foster a hostile sentiment thereto. We will rival them in earnest endeavors to implant in the minds of the citizens of this country, and especially of our children, a heartfelt love for the United States of America, to the end that present and coming generations shall in every part of the land believe in and maintain true allegiance thereto, based upon a paramount respect for and fidelity to its constitution and laws, which will lead them to discountenance whatever tends to weaken loyalty, incites insurrection, treason or rebellion, or in any manner impairs the efficiency and permanency of our free institution and will impel them to 'encourage the spread of universal liberty, equal rights and justice to all men,' and to defend these sentiments, which are quoted from the fundamental law of our order, with their lives, if need be."

The position taken by the Commander-in-Chief in the pension question was received with great favor and warm approval, and the kind but firm conclusion of the address and his allusions to the South met a most hearty response and was greeted with cheers.

A resolution submitted by Comrade Thomas, of Illinois, was adopted. It authorized the Commander-in-Chief to appoint a special committee of seven to report to the encampment upon the feasibility of accepting the invitation of the trustees of the Logan Monument Fund to co-operate in the "noble enterprise." General Fairchild immediately appointed as a committee Governor Alger, of Michigan; S. S. Burdette, of Washington; H. H. Thomas, of Illinois; John C. Robinson, of New York; Governor Beaver, of Pennsylvania; Hannibal Hamlin, of Maine, and Charles D. Nash, of Massachusetts.

Comrade Keifer, of Ohio, moved that in accordance with the recommendation of the Commander-in-Chief, the letter of Mr. Drexel tendering the Mount McGregor property to the Grand Army be referred to the Commander-in-Chief to be elected by this encampment and a new council of administration, with full power to accept the conveyance. Referred.

During the session Past Commander-in-Chief Vandervort, of Omaha, introduced a preamble and series of resolutions condemning President Cleveland's policy in Grand Army matters in the most severe terms. The preamble recites the President's action in the matter of pensions and then dwells on his "attempt to have the rebel flags captured in battle returned to the rebellious Southern States." It also refers to his "general policy of snubbing the Union veterans and honoring ex-Confederates with place and power in the Administration." The resolutions call for a formal condemnation of President Cleveland and his methods in those matters and pledge the Grand Army to the support of any Presidential candidate known to be a sympathizer with the Union and the men that fought therefor. The reading of the resolutions created an uproar, and loud protestations were mingled with cheers. Under the rules the resolutions were referred without debate. There is no doubt but that they will be considerably pruned down in committee before being referred back to the convention, the committee having that power. One thing is certain, they will cause a warm discussion when they are returned.

The encampment adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

The Woman's Relief Corps began the session of their annual National encampment yesterday. President Elizabeth d'Arcy Klapp presided. The annual reports of the president and secretary were read, and the encampment adjourned until to-day.

A large number of banquets and receptions were held last night.

The rain having caused the 100,000 gas jets along Fourth and Fifth streets and Washington avenue were a blaze of light last night. The many colored globes in arches and clusters along either side of the street, with an immense arch in the midst of every block spanning the way, reflected the brilliancy of an oriental festival.

Milwaukee, Gettysburg and Chattanooga are mentioned as probable places for the next encampment.

UNION VETERANS ELECT OFFICERS.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 29.—The following officers were elected yesterday by the National Command Union Veterans' Union, which is in annual session here: Commander-in-Chief, M. A. Dillon, of Washington; First Deputy Commander, William T. Clark, of Cleveland; Second Deputy Commander, John A. Fulwiler, of Illinois; Surgeon-General, Dr. Charles Lloyd, of Massachusetts; Chaplain-in-Chief, Colonel G. M. Elliott, of Kansas; Executive Committee, C. H. Flick, of Ohio; Andrew Reinhard, of New Jersey; D. W. Gould, of Massachusetts; Harry M. Hurst, of Pennsylvania; and Ivory H. Pike, of Illinois.

EFFECT OF A CAT'S BITE.

The Strange Case of a Talented Young Lady of Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 29.—Miss Annetta Halliday, a young lady residing with her parents at 34 Duffield street, is dangerously ill with a most remarkable complaint. A few months ago Miss Halliday was bitten on the hand by a pet cat. The wound was a mere scratch, but it gave her a constant stinging pain, and she went to a doctor who examined it and gave her some lotion for it. Now she is writhing in paroxysms of severe pain, during which she yowls and screeches like a cat, biting and scratching at all who come near her. Dr. Justin Emerson, a noted expert in such cases, has been called in, and fears insanity if not death. The young lady is a fine musician, and although but nineteen years old, is a linguist, speaking five languages fluently. She has also written a novel, now in press, and is a cousin of Sidney Luska. Her family are distracted with grief and apprehension.

The Yacht Race.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Weather permitting, the second race between the Volunteer and Thistle will take place to-day. The course to be sailed over will be decided by the regatta committee to-day, and will be twenty miles to windward or leeward and return according to the direction of the wind, starting from either the Sandy Hook or the Scotland lightship as will best enable the committee to lay the course advantageously.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The yachtsmen of the Clyde are astonished at the result of Tuesday's contest between the Thistle and the Volunteer, and the majority are despondent respecting the result of the series of races.

Defeat for the Knights.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 29.—The Knights of Labor, in supporting a strike of employes in the woolen-mills here, have allowed 600 or 700 persons from two dollars to five dollars a week for two months. The mill-hands are now reported to be resuming work at the old wages under an agreement to withdraw from the Knights. Two or three of the mills are resuming on these terms.

Courtney Beats Rubear.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 29.—A good race was rowed on the Susquehanna river at Owego between Charles E. Courtney and George Rubear yesterday. The race was a mile and a half and return for $1,000 a side, and was won by Courtney. Courtney's time was 10:35. A match was at once made for another race for $2,500 within ten days.

"Boodlers" Square Themselves.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Settlements are reported to have been made by the county authorities, on account of "boodle" transactions, with Robinson, the grocer, for $13,500, the Jones printing concern for $2,500, and a dry-goods house for $750.

A Chatsworth Victim Settles.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 29.—Mrs. Henry Waters, of this city, was one of the persons seriously injured in the Chatsworth crash. She has accepted $1,000 from the railroad company in settlement of her claim.

I have not used all of one bottle yet. I suffered from catarrh for twelve years, experiencing the nauseating dropping in the throat peculiar to that disease, and nose bleed almost daily. I tried various remedies without benefit until last April, when I saw Ely's Cream Balm advertised in the Boston Budget. I procured a bottle, and since the first days' use have had no more bleeding—the soreness is entirely gone.—D. G. Davidson with the Boston Budget, formerly with Boston Journal.

FEW BONDS OFFERED.

Only $253,000 Taken at the Treasury Department Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Yesterday's offerings of bonds to the Government amounted to $253,000, of which $153,950 were of 4½ per cents and $99,050 4 per cents. Acting Secretary Thompson said that he could account for the smallness of the offerings only on the theory that the holders did not care to convert them into money. It might, however, he added, be regarded as tending to show that the $29,000,000 recently put upon the market by the operations of the department had averted the possibilities of a panic, and had brought about a feeling of greater confidence and security. Less than $3,000,000 were needed, he said, to meet the sinking-fund requirements of $14,000,000, and there are still nine days within which to obtain that amount, according to the terms of the circular.

A Female Burglar in Male Attire.

PRINCETON, Ind., Sept. 29.—Five burglars were sentenced to the penitentiary yesterday. One of them astonished the court by announcing that the name Charles Kelly, which was read in the indictment, ought to be Clara King, and that she was a woman in male attire. She said she was 22 years old; had been thrown on the world helpless and alone; that she took to male attire a year ago to get along better, and had thus far escaped detection. She was sent to the reformatory.

Tobacco and Potatoes Badly Damaged.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 29.—In consequence of the late protracted drought the tobacco crops were cut short over a half in this region of country, and the late frost injured the growing tobacco still further about 10 per cent., so that it is estimated there will be only about one-third of a crop. Potatoes are almost an entire failure. Corn is in very bad condition.

You will notice how quickly a thoroughly successful article is imitated, and also that the imitations are without merit, as they are gotten up by unscrupulous parties. Beware of imitations of Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic. The genuine is sold by Prentice & Evenson, and promptly cures dyspepsia, costiveness, bad breath, piles, pimples, ague and malaria diseases, poor appetite, low spirits headache, or diseases of the kidneys stomach and liver. Price 50 cents.

A Dog That Chews Gum.

His name is "Pretty," says the New Orleans Picayune, and he chews gum; he lives in this city, and his admirers will attest to the veracity of the statement. He chews the gum and chews like a child does, munching slowly, slowly, then giving it a turn over and munching again. Pretty never swallows the gum, and, as he isn't quite educated up to sticking it under the mantelpiece or on the back of a chair, he just throws it away, after a long chew, for good and all. Pretty hasn't much pedigree to boast of, but he is like a Vassar girl—gum-chewing is only one of his many accomplishments.

The rolling-mill at Howard, Pa., has been rebuilt, and the machinery put into position. When completed there will be work for not less than seventy-five persons in the bar and forge departments. It has not yet been determined when they will start up.

Credit is due the German women and physicians for first using Red Clover blossoms as a medicine. Best results are obtained when combined with other medicinal roots and herbs, as in Dr. Jones Red Clover Tonic, which is the best known remedy for all blood diseases, stomach and liver troubles, pimples, costiveness, bad breath, piles, ague and malaria diseases, indigestion, loss of appetite, low spirits, headache and all diseases of the kidneys. Price 50 cents of Pentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice.

An Omelette of Scorpions.

A curious dish was prepared the other day for a British traveler in Mexico. The attendants served up an omelette, and the servants partook very heartily of the dainty morsel, but the traveler mistrusted the food, owing to certain black particles mixed therein. Inquiring as to the nature of the suspicious looking ingredients, he could scarcely believe his ears when the reply was given: "Oh, those are scorpions," and an investigation proved this to be true, the lower orders in Mexico thus utilizing the young scorpions, which are dug out, hundreds in a nest, their sting being cut off before cooking.

Somewhat Suggestive.

"Chauncy, why don't you change the initials on your card? Since your uncle cut you off with the historical shilling, and you lost your clientage, the letters on the card sort of twit on facts."

"How is that, Gillispoon?"

"Why, judging from the well-inked, fringy binding on your Prince Albert, the letters 'C. D.' are quite appropriate and suggestive."

Another Shakespeare Outrage.

A Frenchman is said to be writing a book which will show that the bard of Avon was of French descent and his name was originally Jacques Pierre, or in plain English, John Peter.

DOMESTIC SERVICE.

The Experience of an Irish Girl in the United States.

Instructive Facts from an Indisputable Source—How Kitchen Girls Are Treated by Their Mistresses—Their Wages and Rooms.

An Irish servant girl who has been in the United States for a period of six years contributes the following article to a recent issue of the Epoch: I have lived out in this country for six years. I have had very good places, but do not feel contented here and I would be glad to get back to Ireland. I think most of the girls think the same way. I have always made good wages, but money is not every thing. I save my money and so do most of the girls I know, for we never know when we may have to send it home to help the old folks. Times are hard over there. And sometimes a girl will want to bring out a brother or sister whom she thinks can do better over here. They mostly don't and wish they were back, but we try to help them all the same. As a general thing, girls are satisfied with their wages. It is easy to change if they are not, for there are plenty of places.

Some girls do not save much, but spend most all their wages for finery. I do not think they know how to shop very well. They think more of how a thing looks than of the quality. I have lived where there was a cook, but I never heard of her taking any money from the store people for getting them to serve food to the house. I do not believe it is a general thing. The mistress attends to all those things herself. It may be the case in very rich families, where the lady does not want to be bothered with seeing to any thing, as the cook is more like a housekeeper.

We get every other Sunday and every other Thursday off for ourselves, from after dinner or lunch in the middle of the day till ten o'clock. I think ten o'clock is late enough for a girl to be out. I think they are mostly all satisfied with their time off. You see we are better off than shop-girls and factory-girls, who have to work all the time, and only have their evenings to themselves. Besides, I don't think housework so tiresome as standing all day or running a machine, and it is healthier.

In most houses girls are allowed to see their friends at suitable times, but very few ladies like to have men hanging around the kitchen. I don't wonder at it, I am sure. The lady mostly comes down the last thing at night to give orders for breakfast, or about the washing, or something, and it is not very nice to meet a great hulking man sitting there and perhaps smoking, for they are very free and easy.

I have heard girls say that if they wanted male company they had to see them out of the house. And that is bad, too, for it keeps them up late.

The food we get is mostly good, plain, but good; but I have heard girls tell about places where they have been where they scarcely got enough to eat, bad as it was, and that, too, in houses where you would think that there was the best of every thing and plenty of it. Some people want to put all their money on their backs, and so, of course, the table suffers.

I have known of people who had a splendid house and furnished elegant, and always dressed in the height of the style, and yet the table was the meanest you ever saw. If they have such poor food themselves of course the girl can't expect any better. There was one family who changed girls four or five times a month, and at last they couldn't get any body to live with them except a greenhorn right off the vessel.

There is a good deal of gossip goes on between the girls about the people they live with. All their affairs are pretty well known. You see, the girls don't have much to interest them, and so they sort of take an interest in the concerns of the family they live with. That is sociable girls do. Some girls don't care a brass button about the people so long as they get their money all right. German and Swede girls are like that. Irish girls are more warm-hearted, and if people are kind to them they like them and will do a great deal for them. I don't mean to say that it is right to talk about the family outside, but sometimes a girl don't think, and it comes out before she knows it. She don't mean any harm. It is very hard for people to keep things from the girls. They are around all the time, and see and hear every thing almost. They generally like the gentleman of the house best, because he don't interfere with them.

Girls don't say much about getting married even to each other. I guess the most of them think they would have just as hard work then as they do now, and poorer places to do it in. When they do marry sometimes they do well, but often they have to get a place after awhile. Sometimes girls go to the country with a family and before they come back get engaged to marry a farmer. That generally does very well.

Girls do not care much to take second-hand clothing from a mistress unless it is pretty nice. They may take it, but they won't wear it.

Wages are better than they have been for some years; a good girl of all-work gets twelve dollars a month. If she can make desserts she gets fourteen dollars. A good cook who can do every thing gets twenty, and a French cook thirty dollars. There is always good help to be had if people want to pay for it. The trouble is, some people think they can get a good girl for most nothing. It is cheaper for them to pay more and get a good one, for the cheap ones waste and break more than their wages' worth every month.

A good girl makes a settled home. She does not like to change round. It is only the poor trash who want to change in hope of bettering themselves. I think the girls would be better and take more interest in their work if the ladies treated them better. They generally get a miserable little room at the top of the house with scarcely any thing in it, hot in summer and cold in winter, and nobody takes any interest in them, not even to see that they keep their room clean. A girl can't have any home feeling where she is treated like that.

It is very seldom that a girl goes to any amusement. When she does, it is generally going to a picnic. Girls that live out are a class by themselves. They visit one another, but do not associate with shop-girls or girls that work at sewing. They have it easy when the family are away for the summer. There is scarcely any thing to do, and they get half wages.

Introduced His Dog.

There is a citizen of Detroit who possesses a very handsome, intelligent grayhound. This dog will never make any friendly advances to any one until he has been regularly introduced. A few days ago his master met a lady whom he knew on Woodward avenue and stopped for a chat. "That's a very fine dog," observed the lady, who is rather a connoisseur; "how do you do, sir?" But the dog stared indifferently into space, and made no sign that he heard her. "Major," said his owner, gravely, "this lady is a friend of mine." That was enough. Major frisked up to the lady, poked his long nose into her hand, rubbed his head affectionately on her dress and showed at once that he accepted her as the friend of his master.

A Pleasure Shared by Women Only.

Malherbe, the gifted French author declared that of all things that man possesses woman alone taken are in being possessed. This seems generally true of the sweeter sex. Like the ivy plant, she longs for an object to cling to and love—to look to for protection. This being her prerogative, ought she not to be told that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the physical salvation of her sex? It banishes those distressing maladies that make her life a burden, curing all painful irregularities, uterine disorders, inflammation and ulceration, prolapsus and kindred weaknesses. As a nervine, it cures nervous exhaustion, prostration, debility, relieves mental anxiety and hypocondria, and promotes refreshing sleep.

Many of the good things of this life are sorrowfully lot alone on account of Dyspepsia. Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Constipation; sold on a positive guarantee at 25 and 50 cents, by Sold by Prentice & Evenson, O. P. O

ROCK RIVER CONFERENCE.

A Full Attendance at the Opening—Bishop Mallalieu Presiding—Elders Report Thousands of Conversions.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Sept. 29.—The Rock River Methodist Conference opened yesterday morning with a full attendance of delegates. Bishop Mallalieu presides.

Bishop Mallalieu addressed the conference for the first time, saying that he hoped to soon learn to know all the brethren by name. He welcomed the poorest brother from the poorest charge to come and see him at any time, and tell his troubles and trials.

Presiding elders of the various districts made their reports and the convention learned from them that thousands of conversions had been made since its last meeting.

Rev. A. S. Hunt, D. D., of the American Bible Society, reported a great demand in foreign fields for the Bible. All or a part of the good book is now published in 285 languages. The current year $185,000 has been appropriated for the foreign field. During the past year 4,468,000 families have been visited in the home field, and here in the United States 500,000 families were found without the Word of God.

The early hours of the afternoon were devoted to committee meetings and at 3 o'clock the annual missionary sermon was preached by Rev. M. E. Cady, of Dixon. In the evening the anniversary of the Educational Society was held and addresses were delivered by Prof. C. W. Bennett and Dr. R. M. Hatfield.

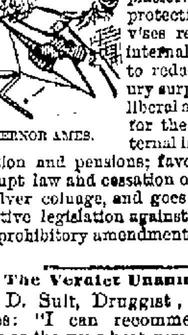

Their Business Boom.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Frank Sherer & Co's Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article, from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

BAY STATE REPUBLICANS.

The State Convention at Boston Renominates Governor Ames—Synopsis of the Platform.

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—The Massachusetts Republicans held their State convention here yesterday and nominated Oliver Ames for Governor; J. Q. A. Brackett for Lieutenant-Governor; H. B. Pierce for Secretary; S. W. Beard for Treasurer; C. R. Ladd for Auditor, and A. J. Waterman for Attorney-General. The platform defends the protective tariff; advises revision of the internal revenue taxes to reduce the Treasury surplus; demands liberal appropriations for the navy, internal improvements, education and pensions; favors a National Bankrupt law and cessation of the compulsory silver coinage, and goes in strong for restrictive legislation against liquor-selling and a prohibitory amendment of the constitution.

GOVERNOR AMES.

The Verdict Unanimous

W. D. Suit, Druggist, Bippus, Ind testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousand of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at Frank Sherer & Co's.

Acker's Blood Elixir is the only Blood Remedy guaranteed. It is a positive cure for Ulcers, Eruptions or Syphilitic Poisoning. It purifies the whole system, and banishes all Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains. We guarantee it. Sold by Prentice & Evenson, O. P. O

THE PRESIDENTIAL TRAIN.

Elaborate Arrangements Made for the Party En Route.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 29.—The finishing touches are now being put in the special train of cars that will be used by the President on his Western and Southern trip. The train will be one of the finest ever made up in the world. It will consist of the Alfaretta, a composite car of the Pennsylvania vestibule train; the Velasco, a vestibule sleeper, and Mr. George M. Pullman's private car, P. P. C. The forward car will have an engine and dynamos that will furnish electric light for the whole train. All the upholstery has been renewed. Electric call-bells are in all the cars. The fittings throughout are most elaborate, and combine all the comforts of a first-class hotel and the luxuries of a millionaire's mansion. The work has been under way for ten days, and must be completed so that the train can leave for Washington to-day. The train as it now stands represents about $200,000.

Scrofulous, Inherited and Contagious Humors Cured by Cuticura

Through the medium of one of your books received through Mr. Frank T. Wray, druggist, Apollo, Pa., I became acquainted with your Cuticura Remedies, and take this opportunity to testify to you that their use has permanently cured me of one of the worst cases of blood poisoning, in connection with erysipelas, that I ever seen, and this after having been pronounced incurable by some of the best physicians in our county. I take great pleasure in forwarding you this testimonial, unsolicited as it is by you in order that others suffering from similar maladies may be encouraged to give your Cuticura Remedies a trial.

SCROFULOUS ULCERS.

James E. Richardson, Custom House, New Orleans, on oath says: "In 1870 scrofulous Ulcers broke out on my body until I was a mass of corruption. Everything known to the medical faculty was tried in vain. I became a mere wreck. At times could not lift my hands to my head, could not turn in bed; was in constant pain, and looked upon life as a curse. No relief or cure in ten years. In 1880 I heard of the Cuticura Remedies, used them and was perfectly cured."

Sworn to before U S Com J D CRAWFORD.

ONE OF THE WORST CASES.

We have been selling your Cuticura Remedies for years, and have the first complaint yet to receive from a purchaser. One of the worst cases of Scrofula I ever saw was cured by the use of five bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, Cuticura and Cuticura Soap. The Soap takes the "cake" here as a medicinal soap.

Choking Catarrh

Have you awakened from a disturbed sleep with all the horrible sensations of an assassin clutching your throat and pressing the life-breath from your tightened chest? Have you noticed the languor and debility that succeed the effort to clear your throat and head of this catarrhal matter? What a depressed influence it exerts upon the mind, clouding the memory and filling the head with pains and strange noises! How difficult it is to rid the nasal passages, throat and lungs of this poisonous mucus all can testify who are afflicted with catarrh. How difficult to protect the system against its farther progress towards the lungs, liver and kidneys, all physicians will admit. It is a terrible disease, and cries out for relief and cure.

The remarkable curative powers, when all other remedies utterly fail, of Sanford's Radical Cure, are attested by thousands who gratefully recommend it to fellow sufferers. No statement is made regarding it that cannot be substantiated by the most respectable and reliable references.

IN THE COURTS.

Peter Myers Pleads Not Guilty to the Charge of Violating the Fire Escape Law.

An Alleged Embezzler Discharged—Other News From the Local Tribunal.

Peter Myers, who was complained of a short time ago for not complying with the state law regarding fire escapes, appeared in the municipal court this morning and pleaded not guilty.

Inspector Moore claims that the state law will not have been complied with until Mr. Myers employs a night watchman, and makes the windows, where fire-escapes are now located, open directly upon the halls. The case will be tried Saturday.

T. C. Sherman, who was arrested on complaint of J. H. Kiel for an alleged embezzlement of twenty-five dollars, had his examination this morning and was promptly discharged.

Evan Lowry and David Lowry enriched the county exchequer to the amount of ten dollars each for having allowed the growth of noxious weeds on their premises.

William Buck was before the court for maintaining a fence that encroached on the street. The matter was put over until October 7th.

H. S. Pomeroy was brought up for alleged malicious injury to a fence belonging to Jesse T. Pomeroy, and his case was also continued.

Altogether, Judge Patterson had quite a busy day.

BRIEFLETS.

—Writing school.

—Remember writing school.

—Milkmaids' drill to-morrow night.

—Milwaukee street should bear the sign "No Thoroughfare."

—But wouldn't a runaway on Milwaukee street make things lively?

—Admission only ten cents at the Milkmaids' drill to-morrow night.

—Captain Koeblin talks of taking the Rifles to Chicago in citizens clothes.

—Charles Gokey has bought out the West Milwaukee street barber shop, of T. Hennessy.

—Most of the Angleworm Club started to-day for a hunting trip in the northern part of the state.

—Ex-Sheriff Harper is "iron inspector," employed by Mr. Gray, contractor in laying the water pipes.

—Mrs. D. E. Fifield gave a very pleasant afternoon reception at her home on South Main street this afternoon.

—Professor Severance will hold his dancing school this winter in Cannon's hall. He will open next Wednesday.

—Something decidedly novel in the line of uniforms is promised for the drill at the Guards' armory to-morrow night.

—Mrs. E. P. Doty entertained a number of friends at six o'clock tea last evening, in honor of her mother, Mrs. S. A. Hullihan.

—J. A. Denniston looked at his friends this morning over one of the finest displays of fruit that has been seen on the street this year.

—M. Hanson & Co's advertisement on furniture and wire mattresses, is published in another column. It is well worth reading.

—Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Mary J. Peckham will be held from her late home to-morrow afternoon at half past two o'clock.

—Mrs. J. B. Day will read at the Milkmaid's carnival, to-morrow night, while Miss Hattie Benedict, the well known pianist, will furnish music.

—Mrs. Garrett Veeder pleasantly entertained a large company of lady friends at a social tea last evening at her home on Caroline street, second ward.

—This is a great town for candy. Within the last two weeks the sale of chocolate creams from the Star, have amounted to one hundred and twenty-five pounds.

—Between seventy-five and a hundred people took supper last evening in All Souls church parlors. Although the supper was the first of the kind since last season it was remarkably successful.

—Herb Allen's smile, which was supposed to be capable of lighting up Kneff & Allen's store even on the darkest night has been reenforced. His store is now on Captain Norcross' electric light circuit.

—Considering that Timothy McCue's death was not known even to the undertakers until after the Gazette had gone to press yesterday, it would seem that we were not so far "behind the light house" after all.

—Pipe laying on Milwaukee street was interfered with by the raceway beneath the surface. Trenches could only be made half the usual depth and the pipe was therefore protected from frost by casings of plank and saw dust.

—In the case of H. B. Haskell against J. H. Gateley, a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff. The suit was brought to recover pay for a composition roof. Mr. Haskell was represented by J. W. Bates, and Mr. Gateley by Horace McElroy.

—Sheriff Ward is serving papers in a will case from Portage county, where between fifteen and twenty Rock county people figure as interested parties. The will is that of Spencer Ide, of Stevens Point, and G. W. Coxhead, of Indian Ford, is executor.

—There is talk of calling Professor H. D. Maxon, of Whitewater, as successor to the Rev. Joseph Waite, at All Souls church. It is extremely doubtful whether or not the professor would accept, though many in the church are very anxious that he should.

—A better illustration of "the old and the new" than that given by the file manufactory, just west of the great Corliss engine at the Milwaukee Exposition, it would be difficult to imagine. Here is shown the old-time process and the present day manner of making files.

—E. B. Heimstreet is one of the first to hang out a new sign in accordance with the new order of numbering the business houses. To-day Messrs. Rogers & Hutchinson placed a handsome sign over his drugstore on North Main street—No. 9 New York Drug Store. No. 9. The sign is an attractive one.

—The young ladies entertainment at the Guards' armory next Friday evening will be very enjoyable. A drill term in the costume of dairymaids, will occupy the floor in the early part of the evening; a choice musical and literary programme will follow, and at the close, oysters will be served at 25 cents a dish. General admission, ten cents. Don't forget the date, September 30.

—West Point (Va.) Star:—"The republican convention which met at the court house on last Saturday nominated Mr. Morgan Treat, of this place, for the House of Delegates." Many old residents of Janesville remember Mr. Treat when a citizen here, and will congratulate him on receiving the nomination of so important an office in his adopted state.

—On Monday next Mr. C. H. Clark will organize a class in plain and ornamental penmanship at Prof. Silsbee's Commercial College, Corn Exchange. Mr. Clark is an expert penman, and the specimens he has on exhibition are second to none. Persons desiring to improve their style of writing will do well to call on Mr. Clark at the Commercial College on Monday next, where all details can be ascertained.

—On Sunday Archbishop Heiss, of Milwaukee, will visit the Catholic churches in this city. At 10:30 o'clock on Sunday morning he will confirm a class of between seventy and eighty at St. Mary's parish, and at three o'clock in the afternoon he will be at St. Patrick's church where he will confirm a class of about one hundred and twenty. The Rev. Bishop will speak after the confirmation exercises at the St. Patrick's church.

—This morning the water pipe layers completed laying the water pipe on West Milwaukee street, the gap being between River street and the bridge. Inasmuch as there are several extra fire hydrants to locate on the original thirteen miles of mains, many think the council should order a hydrant located at the end of the bridge, or at the alleyway running back of the postoffice building. It may cost something extra to place these hydrants after the pipe laying is completed. A hydrant at either the above points would be of great service in case of a fire in the mill property on the raceway.

—Green houses covering sixteen hundred square feet of ground are now on Walter Helms' lots in the third ward. Mr. Helms has one house thirty-five feet long devoted entirely to roses. In this are over twenty varieties from the Marshal Niel, and the Pearl des Jardin which is so often sold for the Niel, to the most delicate tea rose. One of his other houses is devoted largely to artificial propogation and the display of cuttings and shoots is well worth seeing. The demand for flowers this winter promises to be unusual. Boquets as favors at dinner parties are now considered quite "the thing", and this is equally true of "set pieces."

—Some of our readers who are investing their money in Louisiana lottery tickets may be interested in learning that one of Beauregard's old soldiers recently sent him a dollar and requested him to send a lottery ticket which would win a big prize. He said, "I was always at my post and never disobeyed orders, I came out of the war without clothes enough to wad a shot gun." The general answered: "My dear comrade, I send you a ticket that I hope will draw a prize, and beg leave to give the following advice: If you stick to the Louisiana lottery for four years as faithfully as you did to the Southern Confederacy you will not have clothes enough to wad a pop-gun."

Excursion Tickets.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company will sell excursion tickets for the Chicago Exposition on the following dates:

Oct. 1, good to return until Oct. 3.
Oct. 4, 5, good to return until Oct. 10.
Oct. 8, good to return until Oct. 10.
Oct. 11, 12, good to return until October 17.
Oct. 15, good to return until Oct. 17.
Oct. 18, 19, good to return until October 24th.
Oct. 22, good to return until Oct. 24th.
Fare for round trip, including admission to exposition, $3.90.

Cheap Rates to Denver and Return

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway Co. will sell excursion ticket to Denver and return at one fare for the round trip Tickets will be sold September 13th to 18th, inclusive, and as they will be good returning until October 31st, an excellent opportunity is presented to parties desirous of visiting Colorado. Tickets will be sold to Odd Fellows, their friends and the general public. For tickets, information and sleeping car accommodations, apply to agents of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Co.

A Useful Precaution.

It is a useful precaution for the tourist, the commercial traveler, or the emigrant to the west, to take along Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Invalids who travel by steamboat or rail should provide themselves with it, in order to prevent or remedy the nausea which the jarring and vibration of vehicles in transitu often causes them. Vastly preferable is it for this simple, but needful purpose, to the heady unmedicated stimulants of commerce. On board ship, it not only remedies sea sickness, but neutralizes the pernicious effects of water slightly brackish, which, if unqualified, is apt to give rise to irregularities of the bowels, cramps in the abdominal region, and dyspepsia. To the aerial poison of malaria it is an efficient antidote. Sick headache, heartburn, and wind upon the stomach, are properly banished by it. It healthfully stimulates the kidneys and bladder, and nullifies the early symptoms of rheumatism.

Excursion to Madison.

In conformity with the resolution adopted at the council chamber Wednesday evening, we hereby extend a cordial invitation to all citizens to join in the excursion to Madison on October 7th, to greet President and Mrs. Cleveland. Persons desiring to go, are requested to leave their names with Mr. Will Skelly at King's bookstore; J. P. Baker, Frank Sherer, Robert McLean, or any member of the committee on or before Tuesday next. The time of the departure will be announced later.

CLEVELAND AND HENDRICKS.

The Wheel-Horses of the City Democracy Assemble and Arrange to Visit Madison

To Pay their Respects to Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland on Friday, October 7th.

They Extend a Cordial Invitation to Republicans to Accompany Them.

A number of the old members of the Cleveland and Hendricks club assembled at the council chamber last evening in response to the call of Ex-Mayor Alex. Richardson, president of that organization, to consider and make arrangements to visit Madison on Friday, October 7th, and participate in the welcome of President and Mrs. Cleveland. According to our morning contemporary, the following proceedings were had:

Hon. Alex Richardson called the meeting to order. He stated that the meeting had been called under the auspices of the Cleveland and Hendricks Club for the reason that it was thought meet and proper for the Democratic club of Rock county, to take the initiative steps toward perfecting arrangements to visit Madison on Friday, October 7th, to meet President and Mrs. Cleveland, but all citizens, irrespective of party, were welcome to the meeting and to take part in the proceedings.

On motion Mr. Frank Morris, of Milton, was made secretary.

Stirring speeches were made by J. T. Croft, Dr. J. B. Whiting, Hon. J. A. Blount, Charles Skelley, A. O. Wilson and M. Dougherty, after which the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That it be the sense of this meeting that the Cleveland and Hendricks Club, of Rock county visit Madison to meet President and Mrs. Cleveland on Friday, October 7th, 1887, and that a committee consisting of five from Janesville, three from Beloit, two from Edgerton and one each from the towns of the county, be appointed, whose duty it shall be to obtain the names of the members of the club in their respective localities, who desire to go, that the club extend a cordial invitation to all republicans who desire to meet President Cleveland to go with the club, the committee to report at an adjourned meeting.

The chair then appointed the following committee:

Janesville—T. T. Croft, M. Dougherty, Charles Skelly, Charles Horn and Clarence L. Clark.

Beloit—Clinton Babbitt, Frank H. Starkweather and Cornelius Buckley.

Avon—Harry Balon.
Clinton—William Edwards.
Milton—Frank Morris.
Beloit town—J. W. Crist.
Bradford—John Bradt.
Center—Chris Crall.
Fulton—Austin Fessenden.
Harmony—John Campion.
Janesville—Dennis Hayes.
Johnstown—John Harvey.
La Prairie—James Scott.
Lima—C. B. Palmer.
Magnolia—John Drew.
Newark—Peter Rusk.
Plymouth—Daniel Ryan.
Rock—Josheph Williams.
Porter—John Hendricks.
Spring Valley—George Helmboldt.
Turtle—John W. Lathers.
Union—T. C. Richardson.

On motion the meeting adjourned until Tuesday evening at half past seven o'clock at the same place.

PERSONAL.

—J. C. Metcalf, who went as a delegate to the Grand Army encampment in St. Louis, has returned.

—The Jefferson Banner: Miss Anna Zamzou, of Janesville, is visiting at the residence of Mr. John Zeidler.

—Mr. Frank L. Smith will close up his merchant tailoring establishment in Milwaukee and return to his old home in Janesville the first of next month. Mr. Smith has been in the merchant tailoring business with J. I. Shea in Milwaukee for the past two years, doing a very good business. Frank will be cordially welcomed home.

MARY'S RAM ON A NEW PLAN.

Mary had a little ram as black as a rubber shoe, and eveywhere that Mary went he emigrated, too.

He went with her to church one day–the folks hilarious grew, to see him walk demurely into Deacon Allen's pew.

The worthy deacon quickly let his angry passions rise, and gave it an unchristian kick between the sad, brown eyes.

This landed rammy in the aisle: the deacon followed fast, and raised his foot again; alas! that first kick was his last.

For Mr. Sheep walked slowly back, about a rod, 'tis said, and, ere the deacon could retreat, he stood him on his head.

The congregation then arose and went for that 'ere sheep; several well-directed butts just placed them in a heap.

Then rushed they straightway for the door, with curses long and loud, while rammy struck the hindmost man, and shoved him through the crowd.

The minister had often heard that kindness would subdue the fiercest beast. "Aha," he said, "I'll try that game on you."

And so he kindly, gently called: 'Come rammy, rammy, ram; to see the folks abuse you so I grieved and sorry am."

The ram quite dropped its humble air, and rose from off its feet, and when the parson landed, he was behind the hindmost seat.

As he shot out the door and closed it with a slam, he named a California town—I think 'twas "Yuba Dam."—Yuba Co., Cal.

Athletics in New York City.

Hundreds of thousands of persons traveling on the Sixth Avenue Elevated railroad in New York city have seen young men at their games on the Manhattan Athletic grounds, Eighty-sixth street and Eighth avenue. The cars are high enough from the street to overlook the track and the diamond and the grand stand. J. J. McDermott, Lieutenant Captain of the Olympics, who almost lives there, says:

"For strained muscles, sprains, bruises and external applications generally, I find nothing better than Allcock's Porous Plasters."

OBITUARY.

MRS. MARY J. PECKHAM.

The death of Mrs. Mary J. Peckham brief mention of which was made in the Gazette of last evening, occurred at her home on South Academy street, at seven o'clock yesterday morning. Mrs. Peckham was born in Londonderry, Ireland, June 9th, 1812, and was of Scotch parentage. Her maiden name was Mary L. Black. In October, 1835, she was married in New York City to Mr. Richard Peckham, and in 1853 the family removed to Janesville where they have since resided.

At an early age Mrs. Peckham professed faith in Christ and united with the Methodist Episcopal church, and continued an upright and consistent christian woman in this church until her death, over fifty-two years. While a resident of New York city she was a member of the old John Street church, one of the first societies in America professing the Methodist faith. She was personally acquainted with many of the leading persons in New York in her day, including the Harper Brothers. On settling in Janesville she united with the First M. E. church and was ever found among the earnest Christain workers of that society, doing good—caring for the sick, relieving the distressed when in her power so to do. She lived that the world might be the better for her having lived in it. She led a noble christain life, a leaving life work worthy of emulation by the coming generations. Her life was full of inspiration to all who entered her family circle, and her death, although in a ripe old age, will not only be sadly felt in her own family, but in the church and the community in which she was so long the beacon light to earthly happiness.

Two children survive—Mr. Peckham died on October 10th, 1880. The children who survive their noble mother being Mrs. Henry Sowle, of Chicago, and Mrs. M. E. Richardson, of this city.

The funeral service will be held at the family residence on South Academy street, on Friday, at half-past two o'clock, the Rev. Thomas Walker, of the First M. E. church, conducting the services.

MRS. EMILY C. RUSSELL.

Mrs. Emily C. Russell, wife of B. H. Russell, of this city, died on Wednesday night, September 14, after a prolonged illness. Mrs. Russell was born August 22, 1839, dying at the age of 48 years and 23 days. She had been a sufferer for a long time, and the rider of the pale horse came to her, not as the King of Terrors, but as a blessed boon through which she obtained relief from all her earthly aches and pains. The funeral services occurred on Saturday afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Frame, officiating, "Requiescat in Pace."—Buffalo Gap News, Buffalo Gap, Dakota.

The early life of the deceased was spent in Janesville, she being the daughter of Mr Ray O. Jenkins. Her husband is a son of Mrs. S. Russell, and a brother of Alva and Thomas Russell, of this city.

TIMOTHY M'CUE.

By the death of Mr. Timothy McCue, Rock county will miss another of the early settlers of the county. Mr. McCue died at his home on the "Jackman farm," town of Harmony, at 11:30 o'clock yesterday forenoon, after a very brief illness following a severe attack of cholera morbus. He had resided in Rock county for upwards of thirty-four years and was widely known among the early settlers. He was an honest, upright, genial man, and won the respect and confidence of all having dealings with him. Deceased was fifty-eight years of age, and leaves a family consisting of a wife and six children, five sons—John, Lawrence, Edward, Timothy, and Michael—and one daughter Anna, to mourn the loss of a kind husband and an affectionate father. Mr. McCue was a devout member of St. Patrick's church in this city, at which church the funeral will be held at nine o'clock to-morrow morning, the Rev. Father McGinnity conducting the services.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 56 degrees above zero. Cloudy, and foggy with northeast wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 73 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with southeast wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 35 and 67 degrees above zero.

THE State of Arkansas is estimated to have 250,000,000,000 feet of lumber, 2,000 miles of railroad, 3,470 miles of navigable river, 2,300,000 acres of coal fields, 1,500,000 acres of iron and 2,300 square miles of marble.

TRADE AND LABOR NOTES.

A NEW axe factory has been erected at McKeesport, Pa.

THERE are 3,105.42 cubic inches in a bushel of coal of 76 pounds.

THERE are fully five million tons of coal used in New York City.

THE painters in their National convention agreed not to restrict the number of apprentices.

PRISON shoes will continue to be made in the New York prisons by about one thousand convicts.

CHEAP labor is gradually disappearing from the manufacturing and mining localities of the south.

THE stove-makers have an exceptionally prosperous year before them, but competition is very active.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY, Pa., alone furnishes one-tenth of the bituminous coal production of the United States.

THE coopers throughout New York State and the West have been unable for years to better themselves much in the matter of wages.

THE Iowa Gas and Coal Company syndicate have raised sufficient capital to proceed in the development of their 3,000 acre tract of land near Independence, Mo.

THE Machinery Constructors' Union of North America, which was the first organization to secure a National trades district charter in the Knights of Labor, has now a membership of 30,000.

ONE design of electrical motor has already been introduced into one hundred and twenty different branches of industry. The demand for electrical appliances is so great that a number of works are to be built this winter.

GLASS factories are projected at Chattanooga and Knoxville, Tenn.; Birmingham, Ala., and Fort Scott. Over one hundred foundries have been established this year west of the Mississippi, most of them by men from the East.

THE locomotive-builders are barely able to keep up with the rush. Nearly all works have orders for engines to weigh from forty to sixty tons. Southern roads are extensive purchasers. New England roads are buying engines of special construction with a view to speed.

IN every Southern State agricultural and mechanical schools have been established. Louisiana has twenty-one industrial schools, in which 3,120 boys are instructed in mechanical branches. There is a growing desire among the boys of the South to learn mechanical trades.

THE building trades have been about the busiest. Many building projects in some Western cities have been postponed until next year. Should wages and material advance in price the new work will be still longer delayed, and only necessary work be undertaken. A drop of about twenty-five cents per day will be insisted on in the building trades this winter.

THE painters and decorators are gaining in strength. Wages have been held at the advances made early in the spring and work is abundant. The decorative art is being developed by home talent, and the work of European decorators is in many respects excelled. American talent shows more originality and a keener perception as to beautiful combinations.

THE Mary Pratt mine, near Birmingham, Ala., is run with convicts. The mine is 204 feet deep. "There are altogether 280 convicts working here, nearly all of them below the surface. The men are divided into gangs, each of which is overlooked by a foreman, who is a convict. These men daily mine 1,000 tons of coal, which is a fair day's work. Indeed, their work compares very favorably with the work of the free laborers at other mines of Alabama, yet the State receives only thirty cents per day for each man, and the same is paid for the worst as for the best laborer."

A SPOOL OF THREAD.

The Unique Burglar Alarm Devised by a Pittsburgh Physician.

There's a big safe in the closet of Dr. L. H. Willard's office, and Dr. C. A. Wilson, who has been associated with Dr. Willard on the staff of the Homœopathic Hospital, has been looking after his practice and incidentally after his safe. One day recently, says the Pittsburgh Dispatch, Dr. Wilson had occasion to put $100, or some sum of about that size, in the safe, and a few hours later chanced to discover that $10 of it had disappeared. Dr. Wilson is a modest man, and he was rather inclined to believe that he had counted the money wrongly, until on Friday once again the pile in the safe fell away, this time to the tune of $20. Dr. Wilson thought the experimental stage had gone far enough, and decided to proceed at once to a practical operation, with a view to preserving the sanctity of the safe. The closet where this solid institution is harbored is divided from the outer world by a door. Dr. Wilson got a spool of thread, tied the thread to the door knob of the closet, and carried the spool with him to a back room up stairs. The closet door was closed upon the safe.

Dr. Wilson put the spool upon a chair and sat down on the bed to await developments. He also took off his shoes and made sure that his six-shooter was in good working order. It was still broad daylight; the afternoon sun gilded that little spool of thread as it lay minute after minute motionless upon the chair. Dr. Wilson had not heard a sound in the rest of the empty house, and it was without warning of any kind that the spool of thread jumped off the chair. Somebody had opened the closet door and the safe was being tampered with!

Dr. Wilson took another look at his revolver and then slipped quietly down the stairs. Dr. Willard's office has two doors, one opening on to the street, the other leading into the house. The first is always open, the latter on this occasion was stealthily opened by Dr. Wilson. He looked into the room and saw at once that a man was calmly and in a leisurely manner dallying with the sacred secrets of the safe. The door of the safe was open and the thief would have had it all his own way if Dr. Wilson had not been in the rear with a grinning revolver in his hand. There was a painful suddenness about the question with which Dr. Wilson broke the awkward period of suspense.

"Where did you learn the combination?" Dr. Wilson cooly asked. The investigator of safes looked around, made a feeble attempt to speak, and with a very white face concentrated his gaze on the revolver. He didn't show a fragment of a desire to argue the question with his fists or otherwise, so Dr. Wilson went over to the telephone and asked Central to call for a police officer. While the officer was on the way Dr. Wilson improved the occasion by examining his prisoner. He was not an ordinary thief, but a respectable man of thirty or so, who, it appears, occupies what people call a position in society in Allegheny County. He had been a patient of Dr. Willard's, and how he came to discover the combination of the safe can be guessed. He begged Dr. Wilson to let him go, and offered to pay back all the money he had taken if spared the publicity of arrest. He talked well; any way Dr. Wilson has a big heart, and the result was that by the time the policeman reached Dr. Wilson's office his services were not needed.

Give Them a Chance.

That is to say your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

COOKERY CUTLETS.

LARD for pastry should be used as hard as it can be cut with a knife. It should be cut through the flour, not rubbed.

FRUIT TARTS, puddings, sweet omelets, jellies, blanc mange and ice-cream and the plainer sorts of cake represent proper desserts for a somewhat formal luncheon.

EGG PUDDING.—Half a pound of bread crumbs, half a pound of raisins, a pound of chopped apples, four eggs, a cup of sugar, piece of butter the size of an egg, spice. Boil in a mold. Serve with hard sauce.

THE juice of ripe tomatoes will remove fruit stains from the hands or clothing. Powdered starch is also recommended for removing stains from table linen. It should be applied immediately and left on the spot a few hours.

To be palatable and digestible fritters should be made and cooked quickly. The lard in which they are boiled should be very hot; the proper heat is indicated by a blue smoke arising from the surface. Batter for fritters is best made up several hours before using.

PEACH PUDDING.—Take a quart of ripe peaches, pare and quarter; mix two cups of milk with two eggs and a half cup of sugar, place a dozen macaroons in a pudding dish, add the peaches and then pour on the milk and eggs. Do not stir it, but place in a moderately hot oven and bake until firm.

TOMATO PIE.—Prepare the crust as for a custard pie; peel a half dozen large ripe tomatoes, cut them in quarters, place on the undercrust, then sprinkle with a teaspoonful of salt and the same of sugar; add a good lump of butter and a few cloves; set in a hot oven and bake twenty minutes. Serve hot.

SALT-RISING BREAD.—Take a pint of warm water and a thick batter, add one teaspoon of salt. Set in a warm place to rise. When light take a pint of warm water and a pint of new milk, and mix in the batter, pour in the rising. It should be light in two hours, make dough, put in greased pans, let rise and bake.

VEAL LOAF.—Four pounds chopped veal, half pound salt pork, chopped fine, four tablespoons of bread crumbs, half pint of milk, one-and-a-half teaspoons of salt, three teaspoons of sage, half teaspoon of black pepper; mix thoroughly, put in a bread pan, spread the top with butter and bake three hours.

TOMATO SOUP.—Skin and stew sufficient ripe tomatoes to make a quart. Add salt, white pepper, a bit of butter, a small teaspoonful of sugar and either a quart of milk or half milk, half stock. Thicken with three pounded biscuits, boil up and serve. This soup bears heating up well. Where tinned tomatoes are used boil them with half a tablespoonful of carbonate of soda before adding the ingredients.

CELERY SOUP.—Boil a tablespoonful of rice and two heads of celery cut fine, and added before you begin to boil the liquor down, when the rice and celery will pulp through a coarse sieve; strain all, removing the carrot, onion and herbs; rub rice celery through the sieve, and add to the soup a quart of boiling milk, in which a tablespoonful of white thickening has been stirred.

CURRIED EGGS.—Boil three eggs twenty minutes, then remove the shells and cut into slices. Fry a bit of onion in a little butter, and add a teaspoonful of cornstarch mixed with a saltspoon of curry powder; pour on slowly threequarters of a cup of milk, seasoning with salt and butter to taste, and simmer until the union is soft. Add the eggs, and serve when they are thoroughly heated.

FOR a plain omelet take four eggs, one teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of milk, one tablespoonful of butter. Beat the eggs, add salt and milk. Have the pan very hot; be sure of this point. Put in the butter and pour in the beaten egg. Shake vigorously on the hottest part of the stove till the egg begins to thicken. Let it stand a few seconds to brown. Run a knife between the sides of the pan and the omelet, hold and turn into a hot dish.

TO FLAVOR a roast of beef deliciously, to make it tender, and to give variety, which is essential in that family where beef is the staple meat eaten—to do all this nothing more is required than a large lemon; cut it in two pieces, squeeze all the juice upon the roast, then after peeling the lemon roll it up in the roast. When the lemon is used no water is needed. The roast should be a fat one to insure good gravy, and the lemon acid will remove the oily taste sometimes objected to.

CAULIFLOWER PICKLED.—Choose firm, fresh white heads which have been cut on a dry day. Cut away the leaves and stem, and place the flowers in boiling water for five minutes; drain them, and cut them into small pieces, or sprigs, and lay them on a sieve to dry. Half fill the jars with these and pour over them vinegar, which has been boiled with spices, and allowed to become cold. Allow the spices in the following proportion: Two ounces of peppercorns, a drachm of cayenne, an ounce of ginger and half an ounce of mace to every quart of vinegar. Cover and store in the usual way.
